1. Plaintiff Christian A. Felipe, individually as administrator of the Christian A. Felipe Contributory IRA, on behalf of himself and all other persons similarly situated, alleges the following based upon personal knowledge as to plaintiff and plaintiff's own acts, and upon information and belief as to all other matters based on the investigation conducted by and through plaintiff's attorneys, which included, among other things, a review of U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filings by Playstudios, Inc. ("Playstudios"), as well as media and analyst reports about Playstudios and Playstudios' earnings calls with investors and press releases. Plaintiff believes that substantial additional evidentiary support will exist for the allegations set forth herein.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

- 2. This is a federal securities class action arising out of defendants' misrepresentations and omissions regarding its flagship game Kingdom Boss. Despite repeatedly representing to investors that Kingdom Boss was "on track" for release in 2021, and that Playstudios would enjoy substantial revenue and profits as a result of the game's launch and subsequent sales, the game was not on track. In fact, Playstudios never even launched Kingdom Boss.
- 3. Plaintiff brings this case on behalf of a class consisting of all persons and entities other than defendants and other persons (defined below) who: (1) purchased, or otherwise acquired securities of Playstudios, Inc. ("Playstudios") between June 22, 2021 and March 1, 2022, both dates inclusive (the "Class Period"), including, but not limited to, those who purchased or acquired Playstudios securities pursuant to the offering of the private investment in public equity ("PIPE" offering), seeking to recover damages and other relief arising out of defendants' violations of federal securities laws and to pursue remedies under Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") and SEC Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder; (2) held common stock of Acies Acquisition Corp. ("Acies") as of May 25, 2021, and were eligible to vote at Acies' June 16, 2021 special meeting who exchanged their shares of Acies stock for shares of Playstudios stock pursuant to the merger of Acies and Old Playstudios, seeking to pursue remedies under Section 14(a) of the Exchange Act and SEC Rule 14a-9 promulgated thereunder; or (3) purchased or otherwise acquired Playstudios common stock pursuant to or traceable to the Acies' Registration Statement and Proxy Statement issued in connection with the June 2021 merger, seeking to pursue remedies under Sections 11 of the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act").

- 4. Acies is a "blank check" special purpose acquisition company ("SPAC") formed in October 2020 for the purpose of entering a merger, share exchange, asset acquisition, stock purchase, recapitalization, reorganization or other similar business combination with one or more business entities or entities in the media, entertainment, or marketing services industries.
- 5. On February 1, 2021, Acies announced that it had reached a merger agreement with Playstudios ("Old Playstudios"), a privately-held gaming company incorporated under the laws of Delaware (the "Merger" or "Merger Agreement"). In the press release announcing the Merger, Playstudios announced that the transaction implied an enterprise valuation for Playstudios of $1.1 billion and that the consideration to Old Playstudios shareholders for the Merger would comprise at least 89.1 million shares Acies common stock, worth $10 per share, up to $150 million in cash, and a $250 million investment PIPE of common stock of Acies.
- As alleged below, Playstudios and Andrew Pascal, Old Playstudios CEO, solicited votes from stockholders necessary to complete the business combination by means of: (1) the 18 Acies Registration Statement ("Registration Statement"), which was declared effective on May 25, 2021; (2) the Acies Proxy Statement ("Proxy"), which was filed with the SEC on May 25, 2021; and (3) by other public statements that touted Old Playstudios' financial performance and operations, including statements on earnings calls and the Amended Acies Registration Statement, which was declared effective on July 30, 2021. While the Registration Statement and Proxy Statement recited in general terms potential risks that could arise in connection with the Merger with Old Playstudios, they provided no reason to suspect that many of these potential risks had already materialized. In short, Acies' shareholders had no reason to doubt the Proxy Statement's characterization of Old Playstudios as a profitable, rapidly growing, and valuable business with strong future potential.

- 7. Defendants made misleading statements and omissions regarding the true state of Playstudios' development of Kingdom Boss and about its financial projections and future prospects in the Registration Statement and Proxy Statement and subsequent statements. The projections were expressly premised on a successful and timely launch of Playstudios' highly anticipated flagship game, Kingdom Boss. In the Registration Statement and Proxy Statement, Playstudios told investors that "Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021" (emphasis added). However, at the same time that the projections of revenue and profits were being publicly made in SEC filings, defendants knew that Kingdom Boss had encountered difficulties in its design and implementation that would cause the launch to be substantially delayed. In fact, these difficulties resulted only a few months later in the public admission that Kingdom Boss would never be launched. Consequently, the 2021 and 2022 projected revenues and profits were inflated and unreliable. During the Class Period, the price of Playstudios stock was artificially inflated because it was trading at prices affected by those financial projections being accurate and the representation that Kingdom Boss would be launched soon.
- 8. Playstudios announced the completion of the Merger in a press release that same day that stated, in relevant part: "As PLAYSTUDIOS enters this exciting new chapter in our history, we are uniquely positioned to accelerate our growth within the robust games market,' Mr. Pascal said. 'Our listing on Nasdaq is a testament to the enormous opportunity ahead of us as we leverage our strengthened capital position and institutional support to launch new products, pursue new acquisition opportunities, and scale up our unique playAWARDS loyalty program."
- 9. The truth began to come to light after Playstudios released its financial results for the second quarter of 2021, ended on June 30, 2021, on August 11, 2021. The financial results reported for the quarter were finalized on June 30, 2021, just nine days after the Merger closed. At that time, Playstudios revealed for the first time that the Kingdom Boss launch was being delayed until later in the year and investors should expect decreased revenues and profits during the year as a result.

- 10. On this news, Playstudios stock price fell $.66 to close at $5.09 per share on August 12, 2021, a decline of 13%.
- 11. On February 24, 2022, Playstudios filed its annual report for 2021 with the SEC and issued a press release summarizing financial results for the fourth quarter and year ended December 31, 2021.
- 12. On this news, Playstudios stock price fell $.24 to close at $4.86 per share on February 25, 2022, thereby injuring investors, a decline of 5%.
- 13. Two days later, on February 26, 2022, Pascal, Playstudios' CEO, attributed the failure to meet the projections made for revenue and earnings to the failure to launch Kingdom Boss, and revealed that Kingdom Boss was not only delayed, but indefinitely "suspended".
- 14. As a result of defendants' wrongful conduct, plaintiff and other Class members paid artificially inflated prices for their Playstudios securities and suffered substantial losses and damages thereby.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

- 15. The claims asserted arise under Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Exchange Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 78j(b) and 78t(a)), and SEC Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder by the SEC (17 C.F.R. § 240.10b-5), Section 14(a) of the Exchange Act and SEC Rule 14a-9 promulgated thereunder (17 C.F.R. § 240.14a-9), and Section 11 of the Securities Act (15 U.S.C. § 77k).
- 16. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337, § 22 of the Securities Act, and § 27 of the Exchange Act.
- 17. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to §27 of the Exchange Act (15 U.S.C. § 78aa) and 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) as the alleged misstatements entered and subsequent damages took place in substantial part within this judicial district.
- 18. In connection with the acts, conduct and other wrongs alleged in this complaint, defendants, directly or indirectly, used the means and instrumentalities of interstate commerce, including but not limited to, the United States mail, interstate telephone communications, and the facilities of the national securities exchange.

DEFENDANTS' COMMON COURSE OF CONDUCT

- A. Playstudios is a Gaming Company Founded by Andrew Pascal.
- 24. Playstudios is a developer and publisher of free-to-play casual games for mobile and social platforms claimed to be powered by its loyalty program, which offers loyalty points for playing their games which could be redeemed for real-world rewards from entertainment, food and beverage, travel, and other leisure partners, including companies such as MGM Resorts International, Norwegian Cruise Lines, Cirque Du Soleil, Wolfgang Puck, and House of Blues.
- 25. Playstudios was founded in or around July 2011 by defendant Pascal, who was previously the President and Chief Operating Officer of Wynn Las Vegas.
 - B. Acies is Formed to Raise Money For Playstudios Via a Merger.
- 26. Acies was a blank check company, also known as a special purpose acquisition company ("SPAC"), incorporated on August 14, 2020, as a Cayman Islands exempted company for the purpose of effecting a merger with a company to supposedly be identified in the future. At all relevant times, Acies maintained its principal executive office in Manhattan Beach, California. As part of the merger process, Acies became a Delaware corporation.
- 27. Plaintiff is informed and believes that Acies was formed for the purpose of raising money for Playstudios. Put differently, Acies already knew who its merger target would be at the time that Acies was formed. Plaintiff's belief is based on the following facts:
 - a. Acies represented in filings with the SEC that its goal is to consummate a business combination with a business focusing on businesses in the live, location-based, and mobile experiential entertainment industries, specifically sectors that span live events, family entertainment, casino

- gaming, destination hospitality, sports, sports betting and iGaming, and social and casual mobile games.
- b. Acies was led by Jim Murren, former MGM Resorts International CEO, who had known Pascal for more than 25 years, both having been involved with Las Vegas-based casino operating companies.
- c. Pascal has referred to Mr. Murren as a mentor and friend.
- Pascal was also a co-founder of Acies and an advisor to the Acies Board of Directors.
- 28. On October 27, 2020, Acies consummated its initial public offering of its units, with each unit consisting of one Acies Class A ordinary share and one-third of one public warrant. Simultaneously with the closing of its initial public offering, Acies completed the private sale of 4,333,333 private placement warrants at a purchase price of $1.50 per warrant to the Sponsor generating gross proceeds of $6,500,000. On November 9, 2020, in connection with the underwriters' election to partially exercise their over-allotment option, Acies consummated the sale of an additional 1,525,000 Acies units, at $10.00 per unit, generating gross proceeds of $15,250,000. Simultaneously with the partial exercise of the over-allotment option, Acies consummated the sale of an additional 203,334 private placement warrants, at $1.50 per warrant, generating gross proceeds of $305,000.
- 29. On or about February 1, 2021, Old Playstudios and Acies entered into a merger agreement to form Playstudios. The definitive merger proxy statement ("Proxy Statement") was filed with the SEC on May 25, 2021.
- 30. The vote at the General Meeting, where Acies shareholders were asked to approve the merger, took place on June 17, 2021. The merger agreement between Acies and Old Playstudios closed on or about June 21, 2021. On June 22, 2021, Playstudios stock and warrants began publicly trading on NASDAQ under the ticker MYPS and MYPSW.
- 31. As part of that merger, Pascal had the option to exchange a portion of his Old Playstudios stock for cash instead of for Playstudios stock. Plaintiff is informed and believes that Pascal exercised his option to exchange the maximum amount of his Old Playstudios shares for cash. This belief is based on Pascal's representations made to plaintiff.

C. Defendants Make Misleading Public Disclosures Prior to the Merger.

- 32. Prior to the merger, defendants touted the prospects for Playstudios' games, including Kingdom Boss. On February 16, 2021, Playstudios filed a registration statement, which was subsequently amended on March 26, 2021, May 10, 2021, May 18, 2021, and May 20, 2021. The SEC qualified the Registration Statement on May 25, 2021. The May 25, 2021 Registration Statement contained numerous misrepresentations and omissions of material fact.
- 33. In the May 25, 2021 Registration Statement and Proxy Statement, Playstudios described Kingdom Boss as follows: "We expect to launch our first idle RPG game, Kingdom Boss, in the second half of 2021, moving beyond casino-style content and into another rapidly expanding game category." Proxy Statement at 240. Playstudios also told investors that "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021," and referred to the "soon to be released Kingdom Boss." Proxy Statement at 132, 228, 240, 255. The Proxy Statement claimed that the new game would "diversify our portfolio beyond the social casino genre." Proxy Statement at 248.
- 34. Playstudios described Kingdom Boss as its first foray into the role-playing game ("RPG") category, Proxy Statement at 234, and said the game represented "an extension of our addressable market and growth opportunity." Proxy Statement at 132. Playstudios said it expected to "turn our attention to the massive RPG market in 2021, as we launch Kingdom Boss with the category's only real-world loyalty program" and went on to describe "the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, according to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence," noting that "the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020, a market size of $5.9 billion and year-over-year market growth of 50%." Proxy Statement at 132, 234, 240, 241.
- 35. Playstudios emphasized the tremendous market opportunity for Kingdom Boss: "With respect to the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020. According to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence, the total Squad RPG market size was $5.9 billion and it grew at a rate of 50% year-over-year. We intend to leverage our entry into this new category to attract both new awards partners and RPG players, expanding our reward offerings across sports, live entertainment, concerts, amusement and theme parks and other attractions. We believe this will further differentiate our game and enable us to attract, retain and monetize our players." Proxy Statement at 234.

- 36. Playstudios projected that 2021 revenues would be approximately $328 million, with a $21.8 adjusted EBITDA per share, and that 2022 revenues would be approximately $435.2 million with an adjusted EBITDA of $89.9 per share. Proxy Statement at 133. These financial projections were expressly based on what Playstudios described as a "material assumption" that "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021."
- 37. The Proxy Statement stated that "the financial projections do not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date on which the financial projections were finalized, which was November 13, 2020." See Proxy Statement at 133.
 - D. Defendants Make Misleading Public Disclosures After the Merger.
- 38. On July 19, 2021, Playstudios filed a Registration Statement with the SEC on Form S-1. Playstudios filed an amended Registration Statement under Form S-1/A on July 28, 2021. Amendment No. 1, filed with the SEC on Form S-1/A on July 28, 2021, which the SEC declared effective on July 30, 2021.
- 39. In the Amended Registration Statement, Playstudios stated that in 2020, it entered into development agreements with Boss Fight Entertainment for two games, including Kingdom Boss, "which we expect will diversify our portfolio beyond the casino genre." July 30 Registration Statement at 61. Playstudios also referred to its expectation that Kingdom Boss would launch in the second half of 2021 and the "soon to be released Kingdom Boss." July 30 Registration Statement at 66, 68, 82, 88, 95. It called Kingdom Boss an "extension of our addressable market and growth opportunity" and highlighted how the Squad RPG genre "is among the fastestgrowing game segments" and how Playstudios would "turn our attention to the massive RPG market in 2021, as we launch Kingdom Boss." July 30 Registration Statement at 88.

Ε. Playstudios Partially Discloses the Truth

- 40. On August 11, 2021, Playstudios announced its results for the second quarter and first half of 2021 ended June 30, 2021(for the quarter ending just nine days after the merger closed). As part of Playstudios' announcement, it was stated that "Playstudios expects its fullyear 2021 revenue to be in the range of $290 million to $300 million," which was $28-38 million less than what was projected and reflected in the May 25, 2021 Prospectus and Registration Statement and Proxy Statement for a merger that had just closed nine days before. And the revenues for 2022 were estimated to be around $374 million, which was $61 million less than what was projected and reflected in the May 25, 2021 Prospectus and Registration and Proxy Statement.
- 41. This was just twelve days after the SEC qualified Playstudios' July 30 Registration Statement.
- 42. On an earnings call later that day, Pascal explained that these massive misses were due to technical and rollout issues concerning two of its games, myVEGAS Bingo and (primarily) Kingdom Boss:

[Andrew Pascal] I also want to highlight that creating a great game is an organic, and at times a less predictable exercise. While the production and execution can be tightly managed, getting the core experience and play value right is less deterministic ... This was the case with some of our other products, and is proving to be the case with Kingdom Boss as well. As a result, the timeline for its launch and resulting revenue contributions have shifted out, impacting our expectations for the balance of this year.

with that said, we currently expect 2021 revenues to now be between $290 million and $300 million dollars. Additionally, we currently expect 2021 adjusted EBITDA to be between 35 and 40 million dollars.

[Caller] previous expectation for Kingdom Boss was second half launch, I guess can you clarify when you're expecting to now (sic) and what the previous expectation was?

[Pascal] previous expectation was that it was going to launch in the summer, we indicated that it was likely to move until sometime in the late fall, um, and so we are continuing to work on the product but, as I just shared, until we feel really confident about all of the metrics, we have very specific criteria that we hold a product to before we launch it — we're going to continue to invest in getting it right, and so we're in that cycle. We still have a deep belief in that product and we don't want to compromise it by launching it too early. So it'll be the very later part of this year ... so the contributions we now expect from Kingdom Boss are really quite marginal.

[Caller] you cut, relative to your financial revenue targets, as part of the SPAC process, you cut revenue by 33 million, sounds like a few months up to half a year. Seems like there's more, what was the Kingdom Boss expectation this year? I see 60 million but that's full run rate ramped up into 2022 with a full year. So seems like there's more coming out, anyway you can bridge that?

[Pascal] well like we talked about, Kingdom Boss shifts out six months, and like we said hopefully we're going to get it launched before the year is out, but what's shifting out of this year is its most productive months, so substantial amount, a majority of adjustments of shifting out Kingdom Boss, what we had shared previously is that Bingo had launched about six weeks later than what we had originally anticipated.

[Pascal] so between the more modest delay in Bingo, the environment that we are seeing as we continue to scale and grow it, and then of course as we just talked about the shifting out of Kingdom Boss, those are the principal reasons for the adjustments that we made.

[Caller] just to be clear, revenue pushed down 33 million, I guess from pushing out Kingdom Boss, and Bingo six weeks later than expected, wanted to ask I guess, are there any other factors/assumptions for any other games in the portfolio which are changing, or have those assumptions mostly remained unchanged?

[Pascal] we believe we will see growth from our portfolio, but modest growth, which was generally what we had always forecasted. The growth drivers were more attributed to the new products we were launching, but as we just highlighted, we believe there's a lot of opportunity in our core portfolio and the teams are working hard and there's some exciting stuff that will be coming to market from each of the products between now and the end of the year so, generally speaking, the performance of the core offering through the first half of the year is generally in line with what we expected.

43. As Pascal explained in the earnings call, the prior financial projections were based on the assumption that Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, would launch in the summer of 2021: "Yes, I mean, what our previous expectation was it was going to launch in the summer, we indicated that it was likely to move into the sometime in the late fall . . . So it'll be very later part of this year. So the contributions that we now expect from Kingdom Boss are really quite marginal." He went on to explain: "a substantial amount, a majority of the adjustments of shifting out Kingdom Boss."

- 44. In a November 11, 2021, earnings call for the third quarter of 2021, ended on September 30, 2021, Pascal stated that the launch was supposed to take place in early summer 2021: "So look, Kingdom Boss originally was expected to launch sometime in the early summer. And we were then going to scale it throughout the summer into fall, and hit a pace kind of exiting the year. So, as we rolled into the next year, we could achieve what we thought would be the kind of revenue rate that we had forecasted for that product at maturity. And we've been clear that that was a $60 million revenue contribution. And so obviously, that's shifted out now, nearly six months. And as a result, it's impacted what we had originally anticipated for this year, we've been pretty open about that."
- 45. On that call, Playstudios and Pascal continued to paint a rosy picture regarding the status of Kingdom Boss' development and launch:

Next up is Kingdom Boss, our first published game in the RPG category, also from Boss Fight Entertainment. The game is a stunningly rich and immersive role playing game with an art style derivative of their popular dungeon boss aesthetic, and gameplay modeled after the category leading AFK arena. The product was originally expected to launch in early summer, but as conveyed during our last earnings call, we push the targeted launch to the fourth quarter to allow for more refinements and performance optimizations. There's still work to be done, and our partners now hopeful that the game will be ready to launch by the end of the year.

46. But contrary to the statements made in November 2021, on a February 24, 2021, earnings call for the fourth quarter ended December 31, 2021, Pascal, much to plaintiff's and other investors' surprise, disclosed that Kingdom Boss would not be launched at all:

As I've shared, [Kingdom Boss] struggled to achieve all the criteria that were established for a full-scale launch even after making the game available in North America late in the fourth quarter. And while Boss Fight (the developer) has consistently assured us that based on their experience, the product is on a constructive path, currently, we've elected to suspend development and reevaluate our options.

- 47. Given the timing of the closing of the merger and release of the second quarter and first half of 2021 results for months ended June 30, 2021, defendants must have known or recklessly disregarded the fact that the statements about Kingdom Boss and financial projections in the Proxy Statement were materially false and misleading.
- 48. Defendants knew that those projections were based on the assumption that Kingdom Boss would be launched in the early summer of 2021.

- 49. Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded prior to the merger close (June 21, 2021) and prior to the merger vote by the Acies shareholders (June 17, 2021), that Kingdom Boss would not be ready to launch within just a matter of weeks. Kingdom Boss was so delayed in the launch process that it not only failed to launch in the same projected year, it was completely discontinued. This is further supported by Pascal's admission on August 11, 2021 that the Kingdom Boss release had been delayed by six months. Given that Kingdom Boss was initially supposed to launch no later than the early summer of 2021, defendants knew or recklessly disregarded the delay would take place by the time of the merger vote and merger close.
- 50. Defendants nonetheless did not inform investors that the flagship game would not launch consistent with the anticipated schedule.
- 51. Defendants' other SEC filings also failed to disclose the fact that they knew or recklessly disregarded that there would be substantial delays associated in launching Kingdom Boss. In the February 16, 2021 Registration Statement, defendants represented that Kingdom Boss would launch in "mid-2021" (consistent with the "early Summer of 2021" expectation):

Kingdom Boss (Coming Soon)

We expect to launch our first idle RPG game, Kingdom Boss, in mid-2021, moving beyond easino-style content and into another rapidly expanding game category. With respect to the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, according to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence, the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020, a market size of $5.9 billion and year-over-year market growth of 50%. Players of Kingdom Boss will be immersed in an epic role-playing game as they build their empire, forge alliances, command an army of epic heroes, and rescue their subjects from the shadowlands of exiled kingdoms. While we firmly believe in the strong appeal of the core game experience, Kingdom Boss will enjoy additional lift from our loyalty program and a new collection of real-world benefits that will be carefully tailored to this new audience.

52. However, in the Registration Statement filed on March 26, 2021 (and in subsequent SEC filings thereafter), defendants modified the language to say that the launch would be sometime in "the second half of 2021."

Kingdom Boss (Coming Soon)

We expect to launch our first idle RPG game, Kingdom Boss, in the second half of 2021, moving beyond casino-style content and into another rapidly expanding game category. With respect to the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, according to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence, the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020, a market size of $5.9 billion and year-over-year market growth of 50%. Players of Kingdom Boss will be immersed in an epic role-playing game as they build their empire, forge alliances, command an army of epic heroes, and rescue their subjects from the shadowlands of exiled kingdoms. While we firmly believe in the strong appeal of the core game experience, Kingdom Boss will enjoy additional lift from our loyalty program and a new collection of real-world benefits that will be carefully tailored to this new audience.

- 53. This change in language reflects defendants' knowledge that an early summer 2021 launch was not possible, otherwise they would have kept the "mid-2021" verbiage. Despite the knowledge that Kingdom Boss would be delayed, and despite the knowledge the financial projections were based on an early summer Kingdom Boss release, the financial projections were not updated.
- 54. Defendants knew that if the delays associated with Kingdom Boss were disclosed, the merger deal would not close and/or the Playstudios stock (opening at approximately $10 per share) would be deemed to be substantially overvalued.
- 55. Defendants would have been correct that the stock was substantially overvalued because immediately after announcement in Playstudios' Q2 earnings report (released on August 11, 2021) of the new 2021 and 2022 projections based on the myVEGAS Bingo and Kingdom Boss delays, the price of the Playstudios stock dropped dramatically. And, then again, following the disclosure on February 24, 2022, that Kingdom Boss will be discontinued, the price of Playstudios stock dropped even more.
- 56. Pascal knew that disclosure of the delays and cancellation of Kingdom Boss (and thus the disclosure of the unreliability of the financial projections) would have a substantial effect on the price of the Playstudios stock, and consequently, as part of the merger transaction, he opted to exchange the maximum amount of Old Playstudios shares that he was permitted to for cash, rather than for shares in New Playstudios.

F. Defendants' Materially False and/or Misleading Statements and Omissions During the Class Period

- 57. In the Registration Statement, which was declared effective on May 25, 2021, defendants made a number of misleading statements and omissions of material fact.
- 58. Defendants claimed, "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021," said they "intend to complete the development and launch of Kingdom Boss, our Idle RPG game, in the second half of 2021" and represented that "[t]hese games represent an extension of our addressable market and growth opportunity." May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 132, 234. Defendants also claimed: "We also expect to expand our portfolio as we enter the RPG category with our Kingdom Boss product in 2021" and said, "[w]e expect to turn our attention to the massive RPG market in 2021, as we launch Kingdom Boss with the category's only real-world loyalty program. Soon players of the fastest growing game genre will be able to play for free and earn for real." May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 234, 241.
- 59. Defendants also said: "We expect to launch our first idle RPG game, Kingdom Boss, in the second half of 2021, moving beyond casino-style content and into another rapidly expanding game category. With respect to the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, according to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence, the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020, a market size of $5.9 billion and year-over-year market growth of 50%. While we firmly believe in the strong appeal of the core game experience, Kingdom Boss will enjoy additional lift from our loyalty program and a new collection of real-world benefits that will be carefully tailored to this new audience." May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 240.
- 60. They continued: "We expect selling and marketing expense to increase during the remainder of 2021 as we promote myVEGAS Bingo and Kingdom Boss. myVEGAS Bingo was launched in March 2021 and Kingdom Boss is currently under development and expected to launch in the second half of 2021." May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 255.

- 61. Playstudios stated that it projected that 2021 revenues would be approximately $328 million, with a 21.8 adjusted EBITDA, and that 2022 revenues would be approximately $435.2 million with an adjusted EBITDA of 89.9. May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 133. These financial projections were expressly based on what Playstudios described as a "material assumption" that "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021." May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 132.
- 62. The foregoing statements were materially false and misleading, lacked a reasonable basis, and failed to disclose material adverse facts pertaining to the Company's business, operations, and prospects, because Playstudios did not disclose that it was having significant problems with Kingdom Boss, would not be releasing Kingdom Boss as expected, and had not revised its financial projections to account for the problems it had encountered with Kingdom Boss.
- 63. In the Proxy Statement, defendants made identical misleading statements and omissions.
- 64. Defendants claimed, "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 18 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021," said they "intend to complete the development and launch of Kingdom Boss, our Idle RPG game, in the second half of 2021" and represented that "[t]hese games represent an extension of our addressable market and growth opportunity." Proxy Statement at Statement at 132, 234. Defendants also claimed: "We also expect to expand our portfolio as we enter the RPG category with our Kingdom Boss product in 2021" and said, "[we expect to turn our attention to the massive RPG market in 2021, as we launch Kingdom Boss with the category's only real-world loyalty program. Soon players of the fastest growing game genre will be able to play for free and earn for real." Proxy Statement at 234, 241.
 - 65. Defendants also said: "We expect to launch our first idle RPG game, Kingdom Boss, in the second half of 2021, moving beyond casino-style content and into another rapidly expanding game category. With respect to the market opportunity for Kingdom Boss, according to Sensor Tower Game Intelligence, the Squad RPG genre is among the fastest-growing gaming segments, with over 296 million downloads in 2020, a market size of $5.9 billion and year-over-year market growth of 50%. Proxy Statement at 240.

- 66. They continued: "We expect selling and marketing expense to increase during the remainder of 2021 as we promote myVEGAS Bingo and Kingdom Boss. myVEGAS Bingo was launched in March 2021 and Kingdom Boss is currently under development and expected to launch in the second half of 2021." Proxy Statement at 255.
- 67. Playstudios projected that 2021 revenues would be approximately $328 million, with a 21.8 adjusted EBITDA, and that 2022 revenues would be approximately $435.2 million with an adjusted EBITDA of 89.9. May 25, 2021 Registration Statement at 133. These financial projections were expressly based on what Playstudios described as a "material assumption" that "a new game, Kingdom Boss, which began development in 2020, will launch as expected in the second half of 2021." Proxy Statement at 132.
- 68. The foregoing statements were materially false and misleading, lacked a reasonable basis, and failed to disclose material adverse facts pertaining to the Company's business, operations, and prospects, because Playstudios did not disclose that it was having significant problems with Kingdom Boss, would not be releasing Kingdom Boss as expected, and had not revised its financial projections to account for the issues with Kingdom Boss.
- 69. In its February 2021 Investor Presentation made to prospective investors and investors in the PIPEs, Playstudios also represented that it had "developed a portfolio of award-winning games," including Kingdom Boss.

70. It highlighted the "RPG Strategy," fueled by Kingdom Boss, as "a next-level opportunity" and touted its plans to "exploit the RPG Category:"

71. And it conveyed to investors that the "Idle RPG Category," i.e., Kingdom Boss, was part of its "clear and actionable plan to achieve results."

72. The February 2021 presentation regarding financial projections is also telling. Playstudios projected a 33% increase in revenue and 30% forecasted margin for 2022, highlighting Kingdom Boss as part of its "clear path to margin growth."

28

73. In the fourth quarter 2021 investor presentation, Playstudios attributed the AEBITDA decline to the Kingdom Boss failure, noting that the miss was "impacted by New Game Development."

- 74. In fact, the February 2021 investor presentation was so inaccurate that Playstudios has removed it from the investor tab of its website.
- 75. The statements in the February 2021 investor presentation were materially false and/or misleading, lacked a reasonable basis, and/or failed to disclose material adverse facts pertaining to Playstudios' business, operations, and prospects, because Playstudios did not disclose that it was having significant problems with Kingdom Boss, would not be releasing Kingdom Boss as expected, and had not revised its financial projections to account for the issues with Kingdom Boss.
- 76. In the July 30, 2021 Registration Statement, Playstudios disclosed that in 2020, it entered into development agreements with Boss Fight Entertainment for two games, including Kingdom Boss, "which we expect will diversify our portfolio beyond the casino genre." July 30 Registration Statement at 61. Playstudios also referred to its expectation that Kingdom Boss would launch in the second half of 2021 and the "soon to be released Kingdom Boss." July 30

Registration Statement at 66, 68, 82, 88, 95. It called Kingdom Boss an "extension of our addressable market and growth opportunity" and highlighted how the Squad RPG genre "is among the fastest-growing game segments" and how Playstudios would "turn our attention to the massive RPG market in 2021, as we launch Kingdom Boss." July 30 Registration Statement at 88.

- 77. The statements in the July 30, 2021 Registration Statement were materially false and/or misleading, lacked a reasonable basis, and/or failed to disclose material adverse facts pertaining to Playstudios' business, operations, and prospects, because Playstudios did not disclose that it was having significant problems with Kingdom Boss, would not be releasing Kingdom Boss as expected, and had not revised its financial projections to account for the issues with Kingdom Boss. This was the case even though Playstudios had finalized its second quarter 2021 financial results before publishing the July 30, 2021 Registration Statement.
- 78. On February 28, 2022, a securities analyst published an article entitled "Getting Played by Playstudios" where he wrote: "I feel lied to. Or they were disastrously wrong about the prospects for their own company. Either way, it's not good." Finally, on March 3, 2022, Playstudios filed its 10-K, which confirmed the extent of costs attributable to Kingdom Boss' failed launch.

G. Additional Scienter Allegations

- 79. Playstudios had one core product: video games. As alleged herein, upon the merger and after, defendants repeatedly told investors that Kingdom Boss would launch as expected and generate substantial revenue and profits in 2021. But as Playstudios eventually admitted, Kingdom Boss had problems that delayed and ultimately suspended its launch. Further, Pascal, as CEO of Playstudios, was privy to material, non-public information and responsible for the accuracy of the information provided to investors. Each of the forms filed with the SEC upon completion of the merger was signed by Pascal.
- 80. In Playstudios Form 10-Q, for the quarterly period ending June 30, 2021, i.e., nine days after the merger was finalized, Playstudios made statements demonstrating that defendants acted with scienter.

- 81. The 10-Q says: "Selling and marketing expenses increased by $10.0 million, or 70.0%, during the three months ended June 30, 2021 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2020. The increase was primarily due to increased user acquisition costs, $9.4 million related to the global launch of myVEGAS Bingo, soft launch of Kingdom Boss and increases for myVEGAS Mobile and my KONAMI." But the fact that Kingdom Boss had a "soft launch" was never revealed to investors in connection with the merger. And even in the 10-Q, Playstudios continued to represent: "Kingdom Boss is currently under development and expected to launch in the second half of 2021."
- 82. In the earnings call summarizing Playstudios' financial results for the period ending June 30, 2021, Pascal acknowledged that Playstudios' poor financial performance was due to the delayed launch of Kingdom Boss. Pascal and Playstudios knew Kingdom Boss was not going to launch "as expected."
- 83. In fact, Pascal admitted that the Kingdom Boss launch had been delayed six months. As of August 11, 2021, defendants were telling investors that Kingdom Boss would launch in the second half of 2021. This means that the original "expected" launch date had to be no later than June 2021 and that at the time of the merger, defendants knew the game would be delayed at least six months.
- 84. Given the amount of time required to finalize financial statements, Playstudios knew of or recklessly disregarded the problems with Kingdom Boss at the time of the merger.
- 85. The facts alleged herein raise a strong inference of corporate scienter as to Playstudios. Corporate scienter may be alleged independent of individual defendants where a statement would have been approved by corporate officials sufficiently knowledgeable about the company to know the statement was false. Here, the statements alleged were made to the investing public regarding the Playstudios' operations, finances, business practices—all important topics that would necessarily require approval by appropriate corporate officers who, as alleged, had very different information in their hands at the time from what was disclosed to investors.

Loss Causation

- Defendants' wrongful conduct, as alleged herein, directly and proximately caused 86. the economic loss suffered by plaintiff and the Class.
- 87. Throughout the Class Period, as detailed herein, defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements and/or omissions. This course of wrongful conduct caused the price of Playstudios securities to be artificially inflated. But for defendants' misrepresentations and/or omissions, plaintiff and the other members of the Class would not have purchased Playstudios securities or would not have purchased such securities at artificially inflated prices. Later, when defendants' prior misrepresentations and/or omissions were disclosed to the market, the price of Playstudios shares fell significantly as the prior artificial price inflation was dissipated. As a result of their purchases and/or acquisition of Playstudios securities during the Class Period, plaintiff and other members of the Class suffered economic loss, i.e. damages, under the Exchange Act. The timing and magnitude of the decline in the prices of the Company's shares negates any inference that the economic losses and damages suffered by plaintiff and other members of the Class were caused by changed market conditions, macroeconomic factors, or Company-specific facts unrelated to defendants' wrongful conduct.
- 88. The truth about the material misrepresentations and/or omissions was partially 18 revealed to the public on or around: (i) August 12, 2021; and (ii) February 25, 2022.
 - 89. The price declines on August 12, 2021 and February 25, 2022 were the result of the partial disclosures of defendants' overstatement of Playstudios' projected revenues and earnings.
 - 90. The Proxy Statement was a "necessary link" in the merger transaction. As a result, Acies shareholders gave up shares worth $10 per share.
 - 91. As a result, defendants' conduct proximately caused foreseeable losses to members of the Class.

I. Investors Who Bought Playstudios Stock Pursuant and/or Traceable to the Registration Statement Suffered Substantial Losses

92. Since the merger, and as a result of the disclosures of material adverse facts omitted from the Registration Statement, Playstudios' stock price has traded as low as $3.74 per share, or approximately 60% below the $10 price upon the closing of the Merger.

PLAINTIFF'S CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

- 93. Plaintiff brings this action as a class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a) and (b)(3) on behalf of a Class, consisting of those who: (1) purchased, or otherwise acquired the securities of Playstudios between June 22, 2021 and March 4, 2022, both dates inclusive, including, but not limited to, those who purchased or acquired Playstudios securities pursuant to the PIPE offering; (2) held common stock of Acies as of May 25, 2021, eligible to vote at Acies' June 16, 2021 special meeting; and/or (3) purchased or otherwise acquired Playstudios common stock pursuant to or traceable to the Acies' Registration Statement and Proxy Statement issued in connection with the June 2021 Merger.
- 94. Excluded from the Classes are defendants herein, the officers and directors of Playstudios, at all relevant times, members of their immediate families and their legal representatives, heirs, successors or assigns and any entity in which defendants have or had a controlling interest.
- 95. The members of the Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Throughout the Class Period, Playstudios' securities were actively traded on the NASDAQ. While the exact number of Class members is unknown to plaintiff at this time and can be ascertained only through appropriate discovery, plaintiff believes that there are hundreds or thousands of members in the proposed Class. Record owners and other members of the Class may be identified from records maintained by Playstudios or its transfer agent and may be notified of the pendency of this action by mail, using the form of notice similar to that customarily used in securities class actions.

- 96. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Class as all members of the Class are similarly affected by defendants' wrongful conduct in violation of federal law that is complained of herein.
- 97. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the members of the Class and has retained counsel competent and experienced in class and securities litigation. Plaintiff has no interests antagonistic to or in conflict with those of the Class.
- 98. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Class and predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the Class. Among the questions of law and fact common to the Class are:
 - a. Whether defendants violated the federal securities laws;
 - b. Whether defendants' statements to the investing public misrepresented material facts about the financial condition, business, operations, and management of Playstudios, including, but not limited to the status of Kingdom Boss and expected revenues;
 - c. Whether defendants' statements to the investing public omitted material facts necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;
 - d. Whether the defendant Andrew Pascal caused Playstudios to issue false and misleading SEC filings and public statements;
 - e. Whether defendants acted knowingly or recklessly in issuing false and misleading SEC filings and public statements;
 - f. Whether the prices of Playstudios' securities were artificially inflated because of the defendants' conduct complained of herein; and
 - g. Whether the members of the Class have sustained damages and, if so, what is the proper measure of damages.
- 99. A class action is superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy since joinder of all members is impracticable. Furthermore, as the damages suffered by individual Class members may be relatively small, the expense and burden of individual litigation make it impossible for members of the Class to individually redress the wrongs done to them. There will be no difficulty in the management of this action as a class action.

- 100. Plaintiff will rely, in part, upon the presumption of reliance established by the fraud-on-the-market doctrine in that:
 - a. defendants made public misrepresentations or failed to disclose material facts during the Class Period;
 - b. The omissions and misrepresentations were material;
 - c. Playstudios' securities traded in efficient markets; and
 - d. Playstudios traded on the NASDAQ, and was covered by market analysts.
- 101. The market for Playstudios' securities was open, well-developed and efficient at all relevant times. As a result of the materially false and/or misleading statements and/or failures to disclose, Playstudios' securities traded at artificially inflated prices during the Class Period. On June 22, 2021, the Company's share price closed at a Class Period high of $10 per share. Plaintiff and other members of the Class purchased or otherwise acquired the Company's securities relying upon the integrity of the market price of Playstudios' securities and market information relating to Playstudios, and have been damaged thereby.
- by the material misrepresentations and/or omissions particularized in this Complaint causing the damages sustained by plaintiff and other members of the Class. As described herein, during the Class Period, defendants made or caused to be made a series of materially false and/or misleading statements about Kingdom Boss' launch. These material misstatements and/or omissions created an unrealistically positive assessment of Playstudios and its business, operations, and prospects, thus causing the price of Playstudios' securities to be artificially inflated at all relevant times, and when disclosed, negatively affected the value of Playstudios' shares. defendants' materially false and/or misleading statements during the Class Period resulted in plaintiff and other members of the Class purchasing Playstudios' securities at such artificially inflated prices, and each of them has been damaged as a result.

- 103. At all relevant times, the market for Playstudios' securities was an efficient market for the following reasons, among others: (a) Playstudios shares met the requirements for listing, and were listed and actively traded on the NASDAQ, a highly efficient and automated market; (b) As a regulated issuer, Playstudios filed periodic public reports with the SEC and/or the NASDAQ; and (c) Playstudios regularly communicated with public investors via established market communication mechanisms, including through regular dissemination of press releases on the national circuits of major newswire services and through other wide-ranging public disclosures, such as communications with the financial press and other similar reporting services.
- 104. Playstudios was followed by securities analysts employed by brokerage firms who wrote reports about Playstudios, and these reports were distributed to the sales force and certain customers of their respective brokerage firms. Each of these reports was publicly available and entered the public marketplace.
- 105. As a result of the foregoing, the market for Playstudios' securities promptly digested current information regarding Playstudios from all publicly available sources and reflected such information in Playstudios' share price. Under these circumstances, all purchasers of Playstudios' securities during the Class Period suffered similar injury through their purchase of Playstudios' securities at artificially inflated prices and a presumption of reliance applies.
- 106. A Class-wide presumption of reliance is also appropriate in this action under the Supreme Court's holding in Affiliated Ute Citizens of Utah v. United States, 406 U.S. 128 (1972), because the Class's claims are, in large part, grounded on defendants' material misstatements and/or omissions. Because this action involves defendants' failure to disclose material adverse information regarding the Company's business operations and financial prospects—information that defendants were obligated to disclose—positive proof of reliance is not a prerequisite to recovery. All that is necessary is that the facts withheld be material in the sense that a reasonable investor might have considered them important in making investment decisions. Given the importance of the material misstatements and omissions set forth above, that requirement is satisfied here.

107. The statutory safe harbor provided for forward-looking statements under certain circumstances does not apply to any of the allegedly false statements pleaded in this Complaint.

108. The statements alleged to be false and misleading herein all relate to then-existing facts and conditions. In addition, to the extent certain of the statements alleged to be false may be characterized as forward-looking, they were not identified as "forward-looking statements" when made and there were no meaningful cautionary statements identifying important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the purportedly forward-looking statements. In the alternative, to the extent that the statutory safe harbor is determined to apply to any forward looking statements pleaded herein, defendants are liable for those false forward-looking statements because at the time each of those forward-looking statements was made, the speaker had actual knowledge that the forward-looking statement was materially false or misleading, and/or the forward-looking statement was authorized or approved by an executive officer of Playstudios who knew that the statement was false when made.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Against Defendants for violations of Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act [15 U.S.C. § 78j(b)] and Rule 10b-5 [17 C.F.R. § 240.10b-5])

- Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation above as if fully set forth 109. 18 herein.
 - 110. By engaging in the conduct described herein, defendants, directly or indirectly, individually or in concert with others, by the use of the means or instrumentalities of interstate commerce, or of the mails, or of the facilities of a national securities exchange, in connection with the purchase or sale of securities, knowingly or recklessly: (a) employed devices, schemes, and artifices to defraud; (b) made untrue statements of material facts or omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; and (c) engaged in acts, practices, or courses of business which operated or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon purchasers of securities and upon other persons.

- 111. Defendants, directly or indirectly, disseminated or approved the false statements specified above, which they knew or deliberately disregarded were misleading in that they contained misrepresentations and failed to disclose material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.
- 112. Defendants acted with scienter in that they knew that the Proxy Statement, Prospectuses, and Registration Statements and the February 2021 Investor Presentation were materially false and misleading; knew that such statements or documents would be issued or disseminated to investors; and knowingly and substantially participated in, or acquiesced to, the issuance or dissemination of such statements or documents as primary violations of the securities laws. Defendants, by virtue of their receipt information reflecting the true facts of Kingdom Boss and anticipated 2021 and 2022 revenues, all participated in the scheme alleged herein.
- 113. But for these misrepresentations, plaintiff and the class would not have purchased the securities.
- 114. As a result of the wrongful conduct alleged herein, plaintiff, the class, and the subclasses have suffered damages in an amount to be established at trial.
- 115. By reason of the foregoing, defendants have violated Section 10(b) of the 1934 Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder and are liable to plaintiff, the Class, and the subclasses for substantial damages which they suffered in connection with their purchases of Playstudios securities.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Against Pascal for violation of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act)

- 116. Plaintiff repeats and reallege each and every allegation contained in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.
- 117. During the Class Period, Pascal, at relevant times, participated in the operation and management of Playstudios and Acies, and conducted and participated, directly and indirectly, in the conduct of Playstudios and Acies' business affairs. Because of his position as CEO, he knew the adverse non-public information regarding Playstudios' business practices.

- 118. As CEO of a publicly owned company, Pascal had a duty to disseminate accurate and truthful information with respect to Playstudios' financial condition and results of operations, and to correct promptly any public statements issued by the Playstudios that had become materially false or misleading.
- 119. Because of his positions of control and authority as CEO, Pascal was able to, and did, control the contents of the various reports, press releases and public filings which Playstudios disseminated in the marketplace during the Class Period. Throughout the Class Period, at relevant times, Pascal exercised his power and authority to cause Playstudios and Acies to engage in the wrongful acts complained of herein. Pascal, therefore, was a controlling person of Playstudios and Acies within the meaning of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act. In this capacity, he participated in the unlawful conduct alleged which artificially inflated the market price of Playstudios' securities.
- 120. Pascal acted as controlling persons of Playstudios and Acies. By reason of his senior management position and positions as CEO of Playstudios, Pascal had the power to direct the actions of, and exercised the same to cause, Playstudios and Acies to engage in the unlawful acts and conduct complained of herein. Pascal exercised control over the general operations of Playstudios and possessed the power to control the specific activities which comprise the primary violations about which plaintiff and the other members of the Class complain.
- 121. By reason of the above conduct, Pascal is liable pursuant to Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act for the violations committed by Playstudios and Acies.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Against Defendants for violations of 14(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and SEC Rule 14a-9)

- 122. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation above as if fully set forth herein.
- 123. Defendants caused the Proxy Statement to be issued to the Acies investors to approve the merger between Acies and Old Playstudios.

- 124. Rule 14a-9, promulgated pursuant to §14(a) of the 1934 Act, provides that no proxy statement shall contain "any statement which, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, is false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or which omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein not false or misleading."
- 125. The proxy statements at issue in this action were issued in violation of §14(a) of the 1934 Act and Rule 14a-9 because the proxy statement misstated and omitted material facts relating to the status of Kingdom Boss and the projected 2021 and 2022 revenues.
- 126. In the exercise of reasonable care, defendants should have known that the Proxy Statement was materially false and misleading. Plaintiff, while reserving all rights, expressly disclaims and disavows at this time any allegation in this complaint that could be construed as fraud.
- 127. By reason of the mergers accomplished by means of the Proxy Statement, plaintiff and the members of the Class were injured.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Against Defendants for Violation of Section 11 of the Securities Act)
